

TV is TV. It is what it is. there is not too much violence on television. It is difficult for me to assess what is appropriate outside of my household so as a parent I restrict my children's viewing when I deem it appropriate.

I also think that it is inappropriate for Joe down the block or the FCC for that matter to tell me what standards I should employ.

Having grown up with Bugs Bunny, Road Runner, Daffy Duck and the Three STooges I can confidently say that the violence level is the same now as it was 45 years ago.
